commonalities....

by

Stephen Watson

Introduction: The information represented from this point forward is from actual UFO cases, or alleged UFO cases. A UFO case is just a UFO sighting that has been documented. Some UFO cases are also close encounters with UFO occupants. Some people report being abducted and being aboard craft with alien occupants. i.e., abductees. Some people allege cover-up and conspiracy involving black programs. i.e. The UFO cover-up that started with Roswell. The author of this book, as well as a family member, was targeted with directed energy or pain ray weapons in compiling information for this book becoming a targeted individual (TI). There have been reports of UFO beams going back more than a century. It's probably no coincidence that as humans become more advanced the technology will start to mirror UFO and alien culture. That would be considered a commonality. A commonality is more than one case that shares similar details. Compiling information and making sense out of the data is part of the scientific process. Many people report similar types of UFO craft and UFO occupants. One thing is clear. These UFO craft defy conventional explanation and the humanoid occupants do not appear Homo sapiens. Why are commonalities important? Because it can help glean details into an Alien UFO reality.
